Struan Robertson's Rant — a Strathspey

Slowish

Watson's Scotch Measure a very Old Tune

Lady Loudon's Strathspey

The manuscript page contains three distinct musical pieces, each with its title written in cursive above the notation. The first piece, 'Struan Robertson's Rant', is marked 'a Strathspey' and 'Slowish'. It consists of two staves of music. The second piece, 'Watson's Scotch Measure', is marked 'a very Old Tune' and also consists of two staves. The third piece, 'Lady Loudon's Strathspey', consists of two staves. The notation is handwritten in ink on aged paper, featuring treble and bass clefs, notes, rests, and various musical symbols such as 'h' and 'k' which likely represent ornaments or specific performance instructions.
